Kevin, who has over 30 years of facilities experience, oversees the management of the firm's facilities, information technology, knowledge management, office services and records management. His strength is in facilities management, which includes project management, construction management, relocation, preventive maintenance and human and environmental factors. Kevin oversees the management of the firm's outsource partners for information technology, facilities and knowledge management.

Kevin was instrumental in the firm-wide implementation of a series of sustainable initiatives geared towards achieving the firm's Corporate Social Responsibility goals. As a result, in 2010 Levenfeld Pearlstein was the first participant in the Green Office Challenge to reach Tier 1, the highest ranking tier for implemented energy efficiency policies and procedures.

Kevin is an active member with IFMA (International Facility Management Association) since 2000. He attained his CFM (Certified Facility Manager) designation in 2003, and is presently serving as the current past president of the Chicago Chapter of IFMA. Kevin is also a member of the International Legal Technology Association (ILTA).
