

Daily Three: June 30

June 30, 2020

It is the end of June, and we thought it might be helpful to repost the most-read articles for the month in case you missed anything.

As you can see, they vary in subject and direction. We hope that you are finding our content relevant and actionable to you or your business.

Also, we've noticed that our readers are paying close attention to PPP reporting. Just a reminder that today is the deadline in case you missed previous filings.

Thank you for following along.

- Re-Opening Condominium Common Amenities - Phase 4
- Court Rules on COVID Force Majeure Issue
- Current Challenges and Opportunities in the Insurance Distribution M&A Market

3+. To close out this Pride Month, we honor

LGBTQ history and look forward to a more inclusive future. What is Pride, and why is there a parade? Authored by Steven Kriz
