

Partner George Pavlik Joins Levenfeld Pearlstein's Intellectual Property Group

March 15, 2021

CHICAGO, March 15, 2021 - Levenfeld Pearlstein is pleased to announce that George Pavlik has joined the firm as a Partner in its Intellectual Property Group.

Pavlik focuses his practice on patent and trademark prosecution, licensing, due diligence, and clearance/opinion matters. He has over 17 years of experience helping clients protect their intellectual property rights across a wide range of technical areas, including mechanical, electrical, and medical devices, electronic gaming machines and game features, pumps and pump controls, water management systems, hearing aids, alarm systems, detectors and security cameras and equipment and technology for use with law enforcement or military applications. He regularly advises clients on issues related to patentability and infringement, as well as trademark clearance and availability.

"George is a welcome addition to the firm," said Mitchell Weinstein, partner in the Intellectual Property Group. "He is friendly and easy going, while also maintaining a strong focus on client satisfaction as his number one goal. George will continue to represent his clients with their IP needs, and we welcome the opportunity to grow those relationships to areas beyond the scope of IP as well, including corporate matters, labor and employment, and others."

Pavlik is known as a take-action kind of lawyer, and clients and colleagues alike appreciate the way he takes the role of trusted advisor to heart. He is a member of Intellectual Property Law Association of Chicago and International Trademark Association. Pavlik joins LP from Husch Blackwell LLP, where he was a partner.

LP's Intellectual Property Group provides our clients with a broad range of patent, trademark, copyright, trade secret, licensing and transactional services. Our attorneys work closely with our clients to identify protectable intellectual property, develop intellectual property strategies, obtain intellectual property protection, implement best practices, enforce against infringers, and reduce the risk of infringing third-party intellectual property. Our attorneys also are skilled in the transfer (acquisition and disposition) and licensing (inbound and outbound) of intellectual property rights.
