Julie Workman is a partner in LP's Real Estate Group, specializing in commercial and residential real estate development. With over 20 years of law firm and in-house experience, she advises her clients on a variety of real estate acquisitions, dispositions, entitlements, zoning, land use, development and leasing matters. She also has substantial experience in drafting and negotiating property management agreements and construction contracts.

Having previously served in-house with an international hotel company, as well as a national homebuilder, Julie is adept at handling a broad range of corporate transactions, hotel management agreements, hotel construction, land acquisition and renovation contracts, and office, retail and restaurant leases.

Outside of the office, Julie has enthusiastically coached her children's local and travel basketball teams for the past ten years, and is passionate about sports.
