Mary Wasik is a partner in the Corporate Group. Her corporate representation is extensive and includes advising clients on acquisition and sale transactions, structure and preparation of limited liability company and partnership agreements (including real estate joint ventures), and agreements among shareholders. Mary regularly assists clients in the preparation of manufacturing, distribution, product development, sales and service agreements. She has advised clients regarding their duties and all types of issues that arise on a daily basis in the operation of a business.

Mary is currently the Chair of the Board of the Alzheimer's Association, Illinois Chapter and also works with non-profit clients in connection with formation, governance and registration requirements. She has also helped clients obtain certifications as minority and women-owned businesses, including structuring sale and purchase transactions for purposes of retaining or obtaining such certifications.

When legal issues present obstacles to her clients' business objectives, Mary works diligently to present solutions that facilitate progress. To develop a comprehensive assessment of potential risks and challenges, Mary collaborates with her clients and exercises concerned ownership over the issues they face. The combination of her experience and approach is designed to equip her clients with the tools they need to find a resolution and return to the business of their business.
