Shannon Hartzler is a partner in the Trusts & Estates Group and concentrates her practice on estate planning and administration.

Shannon listens to her clients to understand their specific goals, while incorporating tax and administrative efficiencies. Clients trust Shannon to help them solve sensitive and often complex family and business issues at the planning stage to avoid later conflicts that may arise after a client dies or becomes incapacitated. Additionally, she helps clients with the formation of charitable organizations and provides guidance to move their charitable work forward for generations to come.

Active in her community, Shannon is a member with the Chicago Estate Planning Council (CEPC) and is past chair of the Welcome Committee.
