

Meet LP

Doing good legal work isn't what we aspire to - it's where we begin.

Formed in 1999, Levenfeld Pearlstein, LLC was born of the desire to create a different kind of law firm.

Many law firms promote their "value proposition," which they define as high-quality work, responsiveness, efficiency, and reasonable fees. To us, those are just the basics of doing good work for clients.

From the beginning, our focus has been building business relationships with clients as trusted strategic advisors, not just as lawyers. Our attorneys understand our clients' businesses and industries inside and out, seeking legal solutions that support their long-term business strategy as well as short-term needs.

LP's top talent and entrepreneurial setting translate into the sophisticated skills and resources of a big law firm in a more manageable environment. We expertly navigate complex real estate deals, huge national business transactions, complicated estate planning issues, and critical litigation matters, and we do it with small-firm personal service, fewer layers of lawyers, greater top-level partner involvement, and more efficiency. We offer the same level of skill and expertise without the bitter big-firm aftertaste.

Together and individually, we care about and value people - our employees, our clients, our business partners and our communities. We care about the planet and the kind of home it will provide for future generations, and we act on those beliefs daily through our Corporate Social Responsibility initiatives.

The LP Way

Unique among law firms, The LP Way™ is our model for creating and unparalleled client experience at an exceptional value. Client service is the motivation behind all actions and systems put into place at LP.

A lot of firms talk about client service, but LP does more than talk. We have created all processes to align everything and everyone at LP with one goal: providing you an exceptional client experience.

Our CSR program reflects our values and culture as a law firm. Our strategy is holistic and incorporates issues important to our clients, owners, employees, and the community at large.

LP is a member of MSI Global Alliance, allowing us to source reliable, local expertise wherever in the world our clients are doing business.

One Question, One Degree

We rely upon our network of clients, advisors, trusted friends, and colleagues to help us learn, grow, and connect. LP launched our annual One Degree event to help people within our network connect, and we introduced biographical videos to help LP's clients and potential clients get to know our attorneys. Because there are more connections to be made in LP's network, we launched One Question, One Degree - a video series that asks insightful, business-related questions to people in LP's network.
