Protecting your products, intellectual capital, human resources, and time.

The Litigation Group at Levenfeld Pearlstein (“LP”) handles a wide range of business disputes and commercial litigation, including real estate litigation, debtor-creditor disputes, finance and bankruptcy litigation, labor and employment disputes, insurance coverage disputes, and professional liability litigation. We know our way around the courtroom, using the judicial process to achieve the best possible results for our clients.

While there is no shortage of litigation attorneys who can competently represent sophisticated and successful business owners and institutional clients, we take the time to truly understand your goals and articulate a litigation strategy from start to finish.

We are more than great litigators; we are also dedicated business counselors. We understand that “winning” means different things for different clients, so we take the time to understand your objectives and goals. We advise clients on best practices and help protect their assets and capital through well-thought-out strategies. When litigation is unavoidable, we plan carefully, communicate clearly, and adhere to budgets so you can focus on running your business.
